"A bright and lively record. So pleasantly are the letters written which Lady Westminster sent home so full are they of the enthusiasm and good humour which enabled her to appreciate the sunny, and endure the cloudy, side of her wanderings, that her book is most agreeable; and it has this special merit, that it brings clearly before us a number of the great people of former days, royal and imperial personages, whose intimate acquaintance the traveller's rank enabled her to make."—Athenaeum.

MESSRS. MACMILLAN & CO.'S PUBLICATIONS.

WORKS BY THE LATE

Professor W. K. CLIFFORD, F.R.S. LECTURES and ESSAYS. Edited by LESLIE STEPHEN and FREDERICK POLLOCK. With Introduction by F. POLLOCK, and Two Portraits. 2 vols., 8vo, 25s.

The Times of October 22 says:—

"Many a friend first taking up these volumes and remembering his versatile genius and his keen enjoyment of all realms of intellectual activity, must have trembled lest they should be found to consist of fragmentary pieces of work, too disconnected to do justice to his powers of consecutive reasoning, and too varied to have any effect as a whole. Fortunately, their fears are groundless. . . . It is not only in subject that the various papers are closely related. There is also a singular consistency of view and of method throughout. . . . It is in the social and metaphysical subjects that the richness of his intellect shows itself most forcibly in the variety and originality of the ideas which he presents to us. To appreciate this variety it is necessary to read the book itself, for it treats in some form or other of nearly all the subjects of deepest interest in this age of questioning."
